APPLYING AND REGISTERING FOR PROGRAMS

The following will provide guidance on how to apply for, and register programs:

Step 1: Review the BEAHR Programs Guide

Review the BEAHR Programs Guide which outlines the qualifications required for both the organization and the instructors. The following will be required for ECO Canada to assess your application:

- A profile of the organization that details previous training experience and experience working with Indigenous communities
- A letter outlining potential employment opportunities in the region
- A letter of community interest
- A resume or CV of the potential instructors that lists previous training experience and provides details related to experience working with Indigenous communities
- A completed self-assessment form for each potential instructor – form provided to you by ECO Canada upon application inquiry

Please ensure the application highlights the organization's and the instructor's previous training experience and work with Indigenous communities. The BEAHR Training Program is a specialized program designed for Indigenous communities and we want to ensure the instructors demonstrate the qualifications and experience to provide high quality training courses.

Your application will be reviewed, and clarifications may be requested regarding the instructor's or organization's qualifications.

Step 2: Sign Licensing Agreement and Pay Licensing Fees for Instructors

Once your application has been conditionally approved you will be notified by email. You will be sent a licensing agreement in this approval email. Print, sign, and initial 2 copies and mail them to ECO Canada. A copy will be returned to you for your records. You will be sent an invoice for the Licensing fees for your approved instructors. This fee of $1500 is to license the instructor to deliver their approved BEAHR Training programs for 3 years. Once this fee is paid and the licensing agreement is completed and returned, you are ready to begin planning your first training program delivery.

Step 3: Program Application

In this case, the term Program refers to 1 of the 8 programs available for delivery. Your organization can deliver any or all the programs, provided the instructors that are licensed are qualified and conditionally approved to teach them. Organizations can add instructors at any time, however, their application must be reviewed and approved by ECO Canada before they are able to deliver programs.

Instructors are conditionally approved until their first course is witnessed by an ECO Canada evaluator. The course witness will usually take place over 1 day, however, based on the instructor's previous experience and performance, ECO Canada may extend the number of witness days. Fees for this witness are $1250/day plus travel, accommodation, and other reasonable costs for the evaluator. Once the instructor has been evaluated and have passed they will receive final approval. Instructors are approved for a three-year cycle and are subject to a course witness once every 3 years.

Step 4: Ordering Materials

Once your organization has been approved to deliver programs, you may begin to order materials. Please contact beahr@eco.ca to order your materials. You may order materials you are approved for at any time, but they should be ordered at least 2 weeks before the start of a program.

Please indicate the course(s) you are ordering, the number of instructor guides and the number of student guides required for each course. Once the order is submitted and confirmed you should receive materials within 2 weeks. Shipping and Handling charges will be added to the invoice and you will receive an email when the invoice has been finalized. Note: We cannot accept returns of materials as they are made-to-order.

Promotional materials on the program can also be ordered, please contact beahr@eco.ca for more information.

Step 5: Program Registration

Once instructors have been pre-approved, your organization may register for the programs the instructors are pre-approved to deliver. Please ensure your program is registered 2 weeks prior to the start date.

You will be sent documents for both the students and the instructors to complete. These include:
